MAYOR NEWSOM LAUNCHES SUMMER JOBS FOR YOUTH

Newsom's plan will create 1,400 jobs for youth under 18 years old

San Francisco—Mayor Gavin Newsom today launched the Summer Empowerment & Employment Development (SEED) Program. SEED will provide education and training to inspire youth to become advocates in their communities. This includes job training, mentoring, attending workshops, a community service project, and supporting the City's summer lunch program for children and youth living in public housing sites.

"Traditionally, summer is the time when the majority of young people have their first work experience, and SEED is a creative way to provide that opportunity," said Mayor Newsom. "Young people must have the opportunity to work, thrive, and to contribute to the vitality of the local economy, and in some cases their own family's economic survival. Part-time work experience for high school students leads to more confidence in their abilities, better time management skills, and enhanced academic success."

Despite economic and fiscal challenges, the City will continue funding on-going youth employment initiatives. This summer 1,400 slots for youth under 18 years old will be made available via DCYF funded initiatives, such as the Mayor's Youth Employment and Education Program (MYEEP) (675 slots), New Directions (220 slots) which targets youth engaged in the juvenile justice system, Workreation (157 slots), and Youth Works (200 slots), amongst others. SEED is a pilot program during summer 2009, initiated by the Department of Children, Youth and Their Families (DCYF) and the San Francisco Housing Authority (SFHA). The two agencies together will provide $131,000 to develop this program, which will employ and educate the 30 youth at 14 public housing sites throughout San Francisco over the course of 10 weeks, from June 15 through August 21, 2009.

The 14 adults hired will provide mentorship and supervision to the youth. The Japanese Community Youth Council (JCYC) serves as the administrative and fiscal agency and will provide technical support as needed. Each hired adults will work 17.5 hours per week for 9 weeks @ $11 per hour, which equates to approximately $1800 for the duration of the program. Each hired youth will work 20 hours per week for 10 weeks @ $9.79 per hour, which equates to approximately $2000 for the duration of the program.

The 14 SFHA Sites are:
Alemany, Ping Yuen & Ping Yuen North, Westbrook & Hunters Point East,
Alice Griffith, Robert Pitts Apartments, Westside Court, Bernal Plaza East, North Beach Place, Hayes Valley, North & South Portrero Annex & Terrace, Valencia Gardens, Hunters View, and Sunnydale

Today, Mayor Newsom also announced the expansion of DCYF's Summer Lunch Program from 6 SFHA sites to 14. The expansion will provide lunch to potentially 3,979 youth 18-years old and younger, 5-days a week, throughout the duration of the 10-week summer. The expansion of the Summer Lunch Program is a reflection of the HOPE SF commitment to connect new and increased resources to disconnected and isolated communities. Mayor Newsom made today's announcement in the Bayview-Hunters Point district of San Francisco, at the Hunters View public housing complex.
